DEATHS AND FUNERALSJOHN DANIELS.

John Daniels a former resident of Canton, died at his home at Stafford, Ohio, April 21, of old age. He was aged 76 years. Mr. Daniels was born near Manchester, England, and learned the trade of silk dresser and weaver. After he came to this country he was overseer of weaving departments in several large mills in the east. In 1873 he was made loom superintendent in Alexander Woolen mills, in this city, and retained that position until 1880, when he moved to his late home and purchased the Stafford Woolen mills. Mr. Daniels is survived by his widow and two sons.

MRS. KATHERINE PYLE.

AT THE NICKEL-ODEON

The Nickel-Odeon last night had to turn them away and expect to finish the week in the same manner. The house is certainly deserving of this great patronage as it is presenting the best bill both in moving pictures and vaudeville that they have ever put on. The feature picture for Friday and Saturday is the "Merry Widow Waltz Craze." By the time one gets through looking at it they will confess that its title is justly deserved.

Another feature of the vaudeville bill is Thurston & Grey, who give a comedy and scientific boxing exhibition. Miss Grey knows how to handle the gloves and at times introduces some very scientific work. The public can be assured that a visit to the house today or Saturday will surprise them by the magnificent program that's being presented.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The show this week at the Orpheum is exciting much favorable comment from the regular patrons of the house, used by this time to first class vaudeville, and creating agreeable surprise among the once-in-a-while visitors at this popular theatre.

The Four Franks lead in fun making with their farce, "A Mix-Up." It is a story of badly misunderstood relations, the result of frequent and secret marriages, but the end is happy. West and Benton, singers and dancers, one of the best teams seen this season make a hit. The Valois Brothers, gymnasts and acrobats, do many feats requiring enormous ability and strength. Bert Bence, comedian, is a laughmaker of the first water. Fox and Summers, in a laughable skit where mixed identities are a feature cause much fun. The pictures are good.
